The Romanian-built Yakolev Yak-52 is the easiest entry into aerobatic, vintage, and 'warbird' flying on the market. Designed as an entry point for the Soviet fighter school, DOSAAF, the Yak-52 was built to closely resemble future jet aircraft such as the L-29 Delfin, L-39 Albatross, and MiG-15. Outside of military service, the Yak-52 is a staple of the aerobatics scene and can be seen taking part in competition aerobatics all over the world.

Our Yak-52 is Swedish registered but can be moved to any EASA registration with ease.
